The number of harvesters in Alberta this year exceeds that of other years. There are about 1500 on the job at present.

A. H. Tovel will act as manager of the Hail Insurance Board of Alberta until a man is appointed to succeed Mr. Malcolm, who has retired.

Harvest help is difficult to get and owing to a dearth of men in the locality, they are demanding an increase in wages. Threshermen are also confronted with great difficulty in getting crews to man their outfits.

Fifty acres of wheat belonging to Chris. Barch near Gleichen was destroyed by fire last week. Owing to the dryness of the stubble it is well for farmers to use caution and prohibit smoking.

Kenora, Ontario, is to have the largest paper mill in the world to cost about $30,000,000. The new pulp and paper plant now going up in Newfoundland represents an outlay of about $25,000,000.

According to figures provided by the preliminary report on mineral production in Canada for the first six months of 1923, Alberta has produced in those six months a total of 3,312,991 tons of coal, compared with 2,288,296 in the same period of 1922.

TRAIN SERVICE

Daily Trains on Aldersyde Branch to Be Resumed

The daily papers on Monday carried the interesting announcement that on September 30th a daily train service on the Aldersyde branch would be resumed. This means that on and after that date there will be two trains both ways every day, the exception of Sunday, when there will be but one train each way.

The curtailment of the service some nine months ago was made entirely on the order of the Railway Commission, the C.P.R. not even having made a request for the change. The claim has been made that the business at all times has been sufficient to warrant this service. The country served by this branch has created such an increase in trade by the production of enormous crops that the C.P.R. will voluntarily renew the daily daylight service as a matter of good business.

Vulcan, the chief contributing point to the business on this branch, will certainly appreciate the improved service. Business with the railway at this point this year has in some respects been the greatest in the history of this branch.

SOME TRUCK

Messrs. McIntyre & Co., Vulcan, are the local distributors for the famous Rumley motor trucks, one of which has recently been purchased by Mr. George Hanlin, east of town. Delivery of the truck was made at Calgary, and the run to Vulcan was a satisfaction and delight to the purchaser. The machine, which was inspected by many on its arrival in Vulcan, is equipped with pneumatic tires and constructed so as to give speed and capacity for the carrying of big loads with the minimum of wear on the truck. This particular truck will become a new factor in the delivery of grain to the local elevators.

ACROSS THE CONTINENT

Three young Ontario ladies arrived at Cayley last week after a most enjoyable automobile trip from Woodstock, Ontario, to Vancouver and back here, via Lake Windermere and Banff. When the vacation period arrived Miss Nellie McComb, Woodstock, Miss McKay, Stratford, and Miss Crellin of Kintore, purchased a Ford Fliver and away they hiked on their long journey in which they covered over 6300 miles. They experienced no engine trouble on the journey and are loud in their praise of the scenic beauty of the countries through which they passed, particularly B.C. and Alberta. Miss McComb visited with her brother and sister at Cayley and on Saturday last was obliged to cut her visit short owing to the receipt of word of the serious illness of her father in Woodstock. She left by train on Monday.

FRUIT FOR THE PRINCE

While Lord Renfrew is at his ranch at High River he will receive fruit grown at Creston, B.C. The Board of Trade of that town are making frequent shipments of apples, pears, peaches, cantaloupe and other seasonable fruits direct to the ranch. Creston fruit is a recognized product in the Royal Household in London and while the Prince will have the privilege of eating the fruit fresh from Creston gardens. The first lot was sent on Sept. 18 and was pronounced as very luscious fruit. Shipment to ye editor will follow later.

PERIOD OF DEVELOPMENT

Frederick H. Richmond, a director of the Hudson's Bay Co. made a trip through Canada, visiting the companies various stores in the west and he was struck with the optimistic feeling prevailing. Mr. Richmond was of the opinion that a bank should be established by the Dominion for the purpose of lending financial assistance to the farmers in the west. This, he thought, would overcome many difficulties in the way of Western Canada's progress.

HAIL RATE IS HIGH

The board of directors of the Hail Insurance Board of Alberta decided at a recent session on a 12 per cent. rate for 1923. In the report submitted by the executive it was shown that $2,359,301.17 have been paid out in claims this season and in addition to this there are claims for $121,000 more. As the hail season does not expire until October 1, provision has to be made to cover additional claims that may come in the next two weeks. It is estimated the total awards will be more than $2,430,000. Insurance was written in 138 municipal districts in the province south of township 60. Claims were received from all with the exception of 16. In these the crops of only 140 ratepayers were insured. The resignation of Mr. Malcolm as manager was received with regret.

THE NEW RINK

Vulcan will Have Splendid Skating Rink

The announcement last week that the contract had been let for the construction of the new skating rink at Vulcan, was a real satisfaction to Vulcan people, and the size and excellence of the proposed structure made the undertaking the subject of prominent publicity in the city dailies and the town weeklies, and everybody now knows that Vulcan is to have a fine new rink.

The plans and specifications prepared by Mr. James A. McDonald, architect, of Calgary, provide for a building 195 feet in length, built on the most approved methods. The skating surface will be 170x70 feet, and accommodation for patrons will be furnished by two large and well appointed rooms. There will be an office and engine and pump house. Provision will be made for spectators along the full length of the ice and at the front end there is a balcony of considerable capacity. The blue prints show a building of fine proportions and neat and attractive design. The work of construction will be commenced as soon as possible, and the contract requires that the rink be completed by the last day of November, and with favorable weather the builders expect to finish some time before that date.

The Bennett & White Construction Company of Calgary, are the contractors. This firm is well known throughout the province, having constructed the Capitol Theatre at Calgary, the Court House at Medicine Hat, the Municipal Hospital at Hanna, and many schools, power houses and other buildings at other places. All of which is an assurance that Vulcan is to have a real rink.

SCHOOL FAIR

One of The Real Events of Vulcan District

Pupils of twenty-four schools participate and people for many miles are interested in this great annual event, the Vulcan District School Fair, to be held this year on Thursday, September 27th. The fair last year was one on the best in the province, and it is the worthy ambition of the fair committee to eclipse this success this year. If the efforts of the committee receive the merited response of pupils and teachers this will be realized.

Everything is set for a fair of big proportions. The list of special prizes has been circulated. This special list comprises about forty classes, with from one to three prizes in each, a real incentive to useful competition by the pupils provided by the generosity of an interested public. The prizes consist of medals, cups, trophies and cash. Vulcan is the one school fair that has a special list of any kind, and it is provided with the idea that there is nothing too good for the boys and girls of the Vulcan district, and the reciprocal effort of the pupils has made the school fair one of the best in the west.

The parade, oratory contest, singing competition, spelling match, athletic events, and the exhibits in the two hundred classes of competition are features which interest the public as well as the pupils, and on Thursday, next, it is expected that there will be hundreds of people in Vulcan, and it will certainly be worth their while.

THANKSGIVING DAY

November 12th Date Set for Annual Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving Day this year will fall on Monday, November 12. The law provides that Thanksgiving Day will be on the Monday of the week in which Armistice Day falls. Sunday November 11th, being Armistice Day, the following day will be Thanksgiving Day, both days being celebrated in one.

Armistice Day is the day on which poppies are sold and worn. Many there are who persist in observing Armistice Day—November 11th—notwithstanding the law which provides that Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day be observed on the one day, the Monday nearest to the date. The circumstances of Sunday being the 11th will this year eliminate the difference of the day of observance.

Vulcan, as in former years, will observe Armistice Day with a proper ceremonial, and as has already been announced, preparations have been commenced for the event. The pretty practice of wearing a poppy will no doubt be continued, as it should, for they are worn as an emblem of esteem of the service rendered by the gallant dead, and their purchase renders aid to those who suffer because of the sacrifice made.

You and your friends are invited to dance on Friday night, at the I.O.O.F. hall, Vulcan. Music by Ober orchestra. Supper served. Dancing at nine.

The news of the Dempsey-Firpo fight was received at Vulcan by radio at the D. C. Jones drug store, and the crowd of fans who were here was only limited by the capacity of the store. It was almost like being at the ring-side. A few bets were made.

Information has been received from Washington to the effect that Ernie Clifford had been killed in a mine at Wilkinson. Deceased was known to many in and around Vulcan. He is a brother of Mr. George Clifford. Details of the sad event have not been available.

Every now and then reports are made of fruit being grown in Alberta, and this week we record the production in the Vulcan district of a fine sample of crabapple, of the Transcend variety, grown on the Cross-leigh farm by Mr. D. Sims, who has two trees bearing fruit. On day last week Bill Herman brought to this office a branch bearing many cherries which had been broken from a tree at their place.

The Vulcan motor fire truck was called to the country on Tuesday morning. It was effective in extinguishing a fire in a stack. It was a wise precaution, for the other day there was the report of the destruction by fire of an entire crop. Fire in a field so thick with sheaves as they are around Vulcan would spread easily and quickly and soon destroy an immense quantity of crop. The use of the truck was a splendid service rendered by the town to the country.

The first Chinese resident to register with the local postmaster, as required by a recent dominion enactment, was Lem Sam formerly of the Liberty Cafe. Sam has been in Canada for twenty three years and has become thoroughly Canadianized, and he presented his photos and other particulars as required by the act in correct order and in good shape.

The bridge over the Little Bow, on the road between Vulcan and Nanton, out near the old swimming hole, is being made new or very much repaired. Traffic that way was diverted for a time.

Miss Emma McArthur left Vulcan Saturday for Trochu, where she will visit with an uncle. Miss Ruth McArthur left here next day for Bowden, where she will be the guest of friends.

There is such a large and steady delivery of grain to Vulcan that the six elevators are required to operate all day and some hours into the night, and when they are all lit up it makes a grain white way.

Saturday was the opening of the duck shooting season, and since then many and more of our shooters have been about early in the mornings, but so far as can be learned the ducks are having the better of the luck.

In a report of a recent meeting of the Women's Institute the name of Mrs. Brunton, who contributed a splendid address, was unintentionally omitted, and the first opportunity is taken to correct the report.

The largest single load of wheat received thus far this year at Vulcan was delivered on Monday by Loss Kuykendale. The load weighed 10,500 lbs., being 175 bushels. The wheat is the property of Mr. O. L. McPherson, M.L.A., and he has an immense crop.

Mr. Art Neiman was down from Calgary for a day or two to give assistance to the electric light staff in the construction of some extensions. Vulcan electric service keeps pace with the demand for light and at all times gives highly satisfactory service.

Mr. Neville Blunt, who has been connected with St. Aldhelm's church for some months, left here last week for Winnipeg to attend St. John's College. J. H. Cook and family wish to express their appreciation to friends for the thoughtfulness and kindness shown during Mrs. Cook's illness. It reminds one that there are people who do actually "help others bear their burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ." Mrs. Cook is so far improved that she can soon start on her trip east to the old home in Ontario.

The editor last week received from a subscriber the query "Can you tell me what the weather is likely to be next week?" In reply we wrote: "It is our belief that the weather next week is likely to be like your subscription." The enquirer puzzled his head for an hour over what we were driving at when he finally happened to think of the word "Unsettled." He sent a cheque the next day.

Mr. George Ecker, Mr. Thos. Farrand and Miss May Farrand left last week to make their home in Canada. Their many friends here regret their going, but extend the wish that they may realize their hope in the move. All have been more or less associated with local institutions and will be much missed, and particularly is this so of our young friend Miss May, who has given freely of her talent as a singer to the junior choir and in connection with numerous public entertainments.

The Advocate has just received a letter from Jack Thompson, formerly of Spooner's, who is now located at Cambridge, Mass., and employed in a provision house known as Inman Square Market, and is one of a staff of seven. He said he was lucky to land the job, as he had no references when asked for same, but a clipping from the Advocate in reference to their departure from Vulcan was entirely satisfactory to the boss and he went to work next day. He tells of attending big league games and seeing the bout between Puncho Villa and Firpo, and also says: "I see by the paper that you are going to have a big link after all. Well, good luck to it. Also see that you are striving to get a swimming pool. Stick to it, old boy. They have sure got some big ones down here, and the kids have a great time."

REQUIRES INTELLIGENCE

During the past month we have visited small and large farms and observed that in farming today the farmer who hopes to make something more than a bare living has to be something more than a professional man, an ordinary laborer or even an ordinary mechanic. He has to know something of the nature of the soils, something about fertilization, something about the advantage of rotation of the crops. A thousand things come up to attract his attention and interest. He must learn something of chemistry, he must be somewhat of a scientist. There is no business that has so many and so varied problems. Machinery does much for him, but machinery without intelligent application is a liability rather than an asset. Whether in the matter of raising crops or raising cattle he must needs be a student. In these days he has to bear the first blows that hammer down abnormal conditions to what are thought to be normal. Artificial processes cannot keep up the prices for which he sells his products, as they can and do keep up the prices of commodities he has to buy. The adverse conditions with which he has to struggle today, the manufacturer must grapple with tomorrow.

IT'S POOR BUSINESS

The provincial highway from Blairmore to Calgary is nothing to brag about from all reports and in many parts, particularly through the Crow's Nest condition is deplorable, and during the touring season many parties declined to continue their journey into Canada when they saw the neglected condition of the trails. The public works department gives the excuse of needed economy, and the desire for reduction in expenditure. It appears to us that this is a penny wise and pound foolish attitude to take, for the tourist traffic is of great value to the province and it is a great mistake to neglect the provincial highway.

EXERCISE CAUTION

That great caution and care should be exercised by housewives in connection with the use of electrical appliances in homes is quite apparent from the many incipient fires resulting from carelessness. Washing machines, toasters and irons are becoming very popular and of these three the electric iron is the most dangerous, for if left standing on a cloth-covered ironing board, with the current turned on there is bound to be a fire of some sort. Insurance companies realize this for many homes have been destroyed through fires caused in careless handling of electric irons. Good advice to fellow is never leave an electric iron without first disconnecting it from the light bulb. If fire losses in Canada are to be lessened caution must be used in the handling of all those electrical labor saving devices.

GETS HUGE FORTUNE

About 85,000 fight fans paid more than $1,200,000 to see the Dempsey-Firpo fight which lasted only two rounds, when Firpo was put out of the running. The Argentine giant got in one wallop that sent Dempsey through the ropes with a terrific right swing to the jaw. The battle, both in point of attendance and receipts ranks second only to the Dempsey-Carpenter fight two years ago when 93,000 paid $1,600,000 to see the champion conquer his French rival. Dempsey reaped with his triumph the greatest fortune of his career. Receiving 37 1/2 per cent of the gross receipts, his share, on the basis of estimated receipts, would be about $450,000, while Firpo with a 12 1/2 per cent portion, would get $180,000.

Italy's capture of Corfu tells the knell of parting day for Greece.

Correct this sentence: "The tailor himself admitted that it wasn't a good fit."

Normal times will return when each man will do a full day's work for a full day's pay.

The cost of living could be reduced if we could revivify the Joneses not to go so fast.

That ultimatum sent by Italy to Greece reads very much like the one sent by Austria to Serbia in 1914.

When you speak of Italians in connection with the "parting day" you might as well say the day goes.

The way to prevent future wars is to make it a general rule that no nations shall be allowed to fight until it pays its debts.

That phrase "The principles of Liberalism" has to do all the work that the principles of Liberalism did in ye olden days.

You can't depend on them. We have frequently seen newspapers headings that did not conflict with the body of the article.

There is nothing to prevent anyone with a little money from ascertaining how banks can lose money. All he has to do is to lend it and try to get it back.

The record of every coal strike since coal strikes became fashionable discloses that after each of these ceremonies, whether an increase in wages is granted or not, the operator cuts another large piece of pie for himself.

Pugilists aren't the only people who are making money these days. Donoghue, the English jockey, will get $65,000 and expenses if he accompanies Papyrus to the United States, to race against America's best three-year-old.

What do we mean when we speak of returning to normal conditions? Do we mean that prices will go back to pre-war days? That does not seem possible—does not indeed seem desirable. But it should mean that men will return to the wholesome practice of doing a full day's work for a full day's pay.

FAIR FAILURES

The failure of the Hanna annual fair this year has led the editor of the Hanna Herald to enquire into the cause. The chief reason for failure was because of a lack of entertainment. Outside of the exhibits there has been no real attractions to bring the man from the country in to the exhibition. The Herald believes that there is a solution which may turn exhibitions from failures into real successes. This solution lies in combining the fair with an annual sports day and holding such day earlier in the season. By having an annual celebration, arranging a real program of attractions, and combining it with the fair, there should be no trouble in getting the crowds. At least this is something for the directors of the fair to think over.

TORY REMAINS AT UNIVERSITY

Dr. H. M. Tory will continue as president of the University of Alberta. After consideration of the offer recently made him to take the chairmanship of the Canadian Scientific Research Council he has given an answer to Hon. Perren Baker, minister of education, to the effect that he will remain at his present post.

Grand Pre Memorial Chapel and, above, the statue of Evangeline.

Grand Pre was one of the points visited by the weekly newspaper men while on their way to their convention in Halifax, and the statue and chapel pictured above were objects of the keenest interest. The little town is in the "Land of Evangeline," is famous as the place from whence the Acadians were deported by the English in 1755. Only a week or two ago on August 24th, many Acadians of the maritime provinces and other parts of Canada attended the third pilgrimage of the people of that race to their historic shrine, Grand Pre. The event was the unveiling of a statue of the Madonna of L'Assomption, the patron saint of the Acadian people, and of the taking over in the name of Grand Pre memorial committee of a small lot of land at Horton Landing upon which will be erected a suitable cross, marking the spot where Acadians of the expulsion were taken from the shore to the vessels in which they were deported. The statue is seven and one-half feet high, and represents the virgin upheld by several cherubim as she ascends to heaven. As conditions are not as bright as they might be financially in Acadia the interior of the memorial chapel will not be completed this year but a committee has been formed to collect Acadian relics and souvenirs, and to obtain, if possible, further works of art that the interior of this institution be in keeping with the statue. While the exterior of the chapel is plain it is the intention of the Committee to have the interior as elaborate as possible. It will not be used for church purposes but as a museum and white and tinted marble with mosaic flooring will be used with artistic effect. Many will visit Grand Pre, not so much for their interest in Acadians, as because it is the setting of Longfellow's story of the deportation. Evangeline is honored in immortal stone and large numbers have journeyed, particularly from America, to lay their tributes on the statue which is a monument not only to the heroic Acadian maid, but to the great poet whose writings she once inspired.

W. M. DAVIDSON, M.L.A. Editor of The Morning Albertan Says

Clause "D" Does Not Mean the Return of the Bar

Writing editorially August 16th, he says:

"The moderationists have always insisted, even when appearing before the Legislative committee drafting the questions, that they did not want the return of the bar and included such a statement in the proposed ballot submitted at the time. The Albertan is quite confident that if "D" passes, this Government and this Legislature will do their utmost to have conditions as different as possible from the old days of the bar. It doubts, AFTER REPEATED STATEMENTS OF THE MODERATIONISTS, if any Government or Legislature would dare to permit what we generally regard as the old bar system.

DO NOT BE FOOLED—The Moderationists are honest in their statements that they do not want the return of the bar.

How to make your skin fresh and clear

Palm and olive oils —nothing else—give nature's green color to Palmolive Soap

Made in Canada

Every woman passes as pretty if only her skin is fresh, smooth and young. It is within the power of every woman to possess this attraction to make her complexion as beautiful as she longs for it to be.

The secret? Cleopatra knew and practiced it in the days of ancient Egypt.
She observed a daily ceremonial cleansing. The cleansers she used were the same you may have today, Palm and Olive oils.

These beautifying oils are scientifically blended in famous Palmolive Soap.
They give it mildness, wonderful soothing qualities, profuse, creamy and refreshing lather.

Cleansing with Palmolive is a beauty treatment in itself. No woman should say her skin is too sensitive to use soap until she has tried Palmolive.

The attractive green cake, the natural color of the oils, is within the reach of every one who appreciates that cleanliness is the greatest beautifier.

WAR VETERAN HERE

Captain Jim Fuller, Who has Seen Active Service in Many Campaigns, Will Write for Empire Magazines

Captain Jim Fuller, free lance magazine writer, and well known throughout the British Empire, arrived in High River on Sunday and will remain here for a fortnight interviewing ranchers and farmers besides taking views of surrounding ranches for empire publications. His observations will follow along the line of cementing the bonds of kinship within the empire and his articles will appear in leading magazines in New Zealand, Australia, Africa, India, Great Britain, Canada, as well as the United States.
Captain Fuller was at Quebec upon the arrival of the Prince of Wales and his party and he continued the journey west on the first section of the Trans Canada bearing the Royal party and his writings will be of deep interest and benefit to Canada for his impressions of this province are of the highest, for the beautiful crops, the splendid types of high grade stock, the scenic beauty of the country has made him enthusiastic about the future of this country. He is an imperialist of the first water and is a war veteran of four campaigns and one native rebellion. He served in the Boer war from 1899 to 1902, has six engagement bars, Transvaal, Orange River, Colony, Rhodesia, Relief of Mafeking and Kimberley. He saw service in 1905 in the Zulu rebellion, and from 1908 to 1910 was through the Somaliland campaign. He also carries the 14 Star, General Service and Victory badge of the Great War.
At Gallipoli he was badly wounded and with reluctance he admits his fighting days are over. Captain Fuller numbers among his friends such celebrities as Rudyard Kipling, H. G.
Wells, Sir Conan Doyle. Since coming to Canada he has been on an extensive tour studying conditions and progress made by soldiers under the Soldiers' Settlement-plan, and he says that the soldiers who have settled down in a genuine spirit to take full advantage of the benefits of the plan have made splendid advancement. — High River

TRAIN SERVICE

Restoration of a daily except Sunday, morning service from Calgary to Lethbridge, via Aldersyde, and a tri-weekly morning train from Calgary to Macleod, was announced by J. E.
Proctor, district passenger agent, on Monday morning. Mr. Proctor said that the new service will start on September 30. The morning train to Lethbridge will leave Calgary every morning except Sunday at 8:25 o'clock and the Macleod train will leave here at 8 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, connecting with Crows' Nest points and returning to Calgary at 9:30. The Lethbridge train will return to Calgary at 9 p.m. This is a restoration of the old service which has been agitated for by many residents of the south country. It will be a great convenience to commercial travelers and to a large number of business men in the south who have frequent trips to make into Calgary.

FARM IS SOLD TO HUTTERITES

The Miami farm of six thousand acres, located in the New Dayton district, has been sold by its Ohio owners to the Hutterites for a consideration said to be a quarter of a million dollars. The manager of the farm announced after the sale was concluded that in the 15 years of its operations the farm had paid 450 per cent., or an average of 30 per cent. on the investment annually and the original investment will now be returned as a result of the sale.

GATHERING DATA

W. C. Good, M.P., Touring Western Canada—Data Regarding Banking and Credit System

Those who led in the discussion of the Bank Act last session at Ottawa will consider the intervening developments, the collapse of the Home Bank and the merging of the Bank of Hamilton with the Canadian Bank of Commerce as a vindication of their stand and in this they are justified. W. C.
Good, M.P. for Brant was one of these and his speeches in the house were followed with keen interest by Canadians generally.

Mr. Good is making a tour of investigation of western Canada and the western United States enquiring into economic conditions in both countries, with special reference to connection between agriculture and the banking and credit systems in the two countries and the result of his observations will be awaited with interest by people of this portion of western Canada. At the Round T, Mr.
Good was enabled to see a large farm scientifically operated and from Mr.
Bennis, the manager, he obtained the viewpoint of one who studies closely the various phases of grain farming and stock raising. He also discussed farming problems with Messrs. C. C.
Short, B. F. Kiser, and others, and secured data that was interesting to him. An afternoon was spent at the Bar U and E.P. ranches where he was greatly impressed with the possibilities of the foothill country for stock raising. Mr. Good in an interview said:

When I left Ottawa at the end of the last session there was no doubt in my mind that the last word had not been said in regard to the currency and banking systems of Canada. In fact I was quite sure that there was pressing need for reform in several directions and indeed this was admitted by parliament when it adopted the report of two of the parliamentary committees recommending the further investigation of the general question of financial credit and the particular question of rural credits.

Believing then, that these matters would probably be taken up at the next session, and that in any event serious consideration could not be long postponed; and realizing that the demand for action had come mainly from Western Canada, I have planned this trip for the purpose of gathering first hand information and seeing conditions for myself. My itinerary covers Canada west of the Great Lakes and the corresponding section of the U.S. including the states of Oregon, Washington, Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, and possibly Illinois and Michigan, if I have time.

Since I started on my journey the need for some such investigation as I have mentioned has been emphasized by the failure of the Home Bank, the absorption of the Bank of Hamilton by the Bank of Commerce, and by reported heavy losses in one or more of the other Canadian banks. The fact that the Home Bank made public not long ago a statement to the effect that its condition was satisfactory together with some other rather disquieting revelations, have left the public in a very suspicious mood, ready to question the veracity of bankers, the accuracy of their published financial statements, and the solvency of the remaining institutions. A most unfortunate attitude of mind is thus developing, which may bring more ruin in its wake.

Further mergers will probably seem necessary to avert further loss, and in fact the whole situation should be resolutely and courageously grappled with or the result may be disastrous in the extreme. It seems patent, therefore, that the course of affairs since the close of the session has but made more urgent the need for a thorough investigation of existing conditions with a view to devise and apply effective remedies; and my trip should be helpful in this direction.
When it is concluded I intend publishing a series of articles which will give some record of my investigations derivable therefrom. It is obviously premature to make any final pronouncments at present. I venture to state however that in my judgement there are a number of features about the U.S. banking system which we Canadians would do well to study. No doubt it would be difficult to apply some of these in Canada; but if we are forced by the exigencies of the times to move in some direction it is surely worth while to know something of others' experiences, so that when the time for action comes we may move in the right direction instead of the wrong one.

Perhaps I may observe also that trip such as I have outlined gives me a more adequate conception of the resources, possibilities, industries and people of a large and growingly important part of this continent. It also gives me an opportunity to study a number of types of agriculture under special conditions to observe the development of the co-operative movement, and generally to acquaint myself with the needs of Western Canada. May I say in conclusion that I have been greatly impressed with the enormous potentialities of this great new west, and therefore I am convinced that its needs and desires should be given adequate consideration at the hands of easterners and particularly at the hands of the parliament of Canada.

LIFE OF A RANCHER

Writer Describes the "Little Grey Home in the West" Where Lord Renfrew is now Residing Earnest Walter, who recently visited the E.P. Ranch, wrote a very descriptive article for the Calgary Herald of the Royal ranch in which he pictures the Prince of Wales residing in his "vine-embowered cottage, living the simple life of a rancher away from harassing cares of empire and among people of his Old Home Town." Splendid pictures appeared illustrating the farm. One of the ranch home shows where the Prince will rest in contentment and a splendid picture is given of Pekisko river, "which winds its way through the property, upon the banks of which native trees abound, and in the sparkling waters tumbling down from mountain streams may be seen many attractive specimen of the finny tribe. On the left of the ranch home rises the slopes of the green foothills, where the cattle, sheep and horses graze contentedly, while on the left the kindly seamed face of the Rockies with patches of snow showing white against the grey sky. Away in the south, a vista of beauty, a crop of oats ready for the sickle, and beside them a patch of sunflowers showing its brilliant colors and ready for the silo." The writer concludes as follows:

"So that is the Prince of Wales' Western Canadian home. It is as simple as any other home in the west.
In fact, there are better homes, as far as looks are concerned and ornate adornments. But a sweeter little spot, or a more cozy little home, could not be found in a day's march. It sits there among the trees, with the foothills on three sides and the mountains on the other. There is peace and quietness there. In the sleepy haze of a September day, when the heat shivers in waves over the hills, and the sweet smell of the hay and harvested crops salutes the nostrils, there could be nothing more calm and restful. Within a stone's throw of the house, just along the banks of the Highwood, there are beauty spots which would charm any harassed soul into rest and relief. The morning breeze comes down from the mountains above, bearing its message; in the evening, when the day is sinking to its rest, comes the call of the night; the dusk settles, the bat wheels its flight into the gloaming; the flowers droop to sleep; the cattle drowse softly on the hillside; lights gleam from the windows.

A figure emerges from the dining room to the verandah; it stands awhile in the doorway, framed in honeysuckle.
It looks out into the deepening night, fading from purple to sable, lit by the stars of heaven. Sweet Cynthia throws a silver beam out over the hills. The picture is complete. It's a picture for all. For prince and pauper, the good gift of God is the same.

And the figure in the doorway?
It's our prince, taking a rest, in Canada, away from the mad strife of the world outside.

Just outside, in the garden, there's a wicker chair. The figure comes down the steps and sits down, and sighs a little.

It's the Prince of Wales, hair to the throne of Great Britain, resting a little. In Alberta. In the west, where many have found rest and peace. He's home, by his ain fireside.

TAKES OFF HIS COAT

Lord Renfrew Demonstrates his Capabilities as Harvest Worker on The E. P. Ranch

Dinner was awaiting Lord Renfrew as he arrived at his home on Sunday night. It was twilight when he entered his ranch property and in the gathering dusk he discerned the ranch stables and buildings, the automobile then plunged through the waters of Pekisko Creek and brilliant lights from the Royal bungalow gleamed a welcome and Lord Renfrew for the first time entered his ranch home.
After partaking of the evening meal he sauntered about the farm buildings, inspecting these and talking with the men employed on the ranch regarding the work, the care of the stock and other details of the ranch. Returning to the residence he performed the part of host in the manner born and he appeared solicitous that those who went out from High River with baggage and equipment were given food. Retiring early in anticipation of a day of unusual activities he arose at 7 o'clock the next morning after a refreshing night's sleep, donned suitable working clothes, broke his fast and away he went to his sunflower patch, where he loaded a wagon of large sheaves of sunflowers and followed the wagon to the silo, and himself fed this succulent fodder into the cutting machine, which in turn was blown into the silo. After this laborious exercise he took a short ride on his Dartmoor pony over his ranch, then inspected the famous thoroughbred stallion, "Will Somers", property of his father, King George. After luncheon, Lord Renfrew then proceeded to an oat field which was cut, and he took a hand in the stooking of same, in which work he proved his capabilities as a harvest hand.

The charter of the Drumheller Union of Coal Mines has been revoked by the U.M.W.A. The men have been ordered back to work, and in case they refuse new officers will be chosen.

ALBERTA BULLETIN

Issued by Publicity Commissioner of Alberta

The clinical congress of the Alberta and Saskatchewan sections of the American college of Physicians and surgeons was held in Edmonton the past week, when a number of distinguished physicians from Eastern Canada and the United States were present.

Those threshers in the province who have not yet received their licenses for the year should send in applications at once to the department of agriculture at Edmonton. It is imperative that all threshers be licensed, and those who do not display their licenses when asked to do so by the authorities are liable to prosecution.

The appointment has been announced of Hon. Frank Oliver of Edmonton to the vacancy in the railway commission of Canada, created by the death of Dr. J. G. Rutherford. Mr. Oliver is a veteran newspaperman of Alberta, and was formerly minister of the interior.

Reports of some heavy yields of wheat are coming in from country points. In the Raymond district one farmer has an average of 53 bushels from 160 acres. At Lacombe a report of 52 bushels from one farm is reported. Threshing will not be general for another week or ten days, however.

A party including several prominent railway officials of the province, and others paid a visit to the tar sand deposits and the oil-extraction plant located at Waterways, last week, under the guidance of John Callaghan, deputy minister of railways. The party was much interested in what was being done to place the tar sands on the basis of commercial use both for paving purposes and for extraction of oil. The plant at Waterways is owned by the McMurray Asphaltum and Oil, Ltd.

Probably in no other year in its history has tourist travel to Alberta been as heavy as this year, and an even heavier year is anticipated for 1924. The Canadian National Railway reports the heaviest year in tourist traffic in its history, many hundreds having visited Jasper Park. The C.P.R. convey similar information, and the reports of auto traffic show that this has also been very heavy. Nearly 5,000 cars, many of them from United States points, have been registered at Banff park alone up to the end of August.

There is an erroneous impression abroad that the provincial government has changed all dates for open in of the shooting season. The only date which has been changed is that for the opening of the duck season, which was moved forward from September 1st to September 15th. The open season for partridge is as it has always been, the entire month of October, the only change in this respect being an order prohibiting shooting of partridge north of the Battle River. The open season for prairie chicken is unchanged, being from October 15th to October 31.

EASTWAY NEWS

On Thursday, September 6th, a meeting of the Eastway W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Wenger. Eight members were present and two new members were enrolled. A discussion took place on the best way to raise funds for the treasury. Several good suggestions were made, but it was decided that each member make a square towards a quilt and tickets for the same were to be sold at 25c each, as soon as possible. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Ryan on the fourth Thursday, September 27. A pleasant afternoon was then closed by singing "Let the Rest of the World go by." A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Wenger, and enjoyed by all.

Normal times will return when each man will do a full day's work for a full day's pay.

BRANT NEWS

Mr. John Eversman spent Sunday with Mrs. Eversman in Calgary.

Services were held in the Catholic church, Sunday, September 16.

The Ladies' Aid will hold a bake sale in Johns & McKay's store on Saturday, September 22nd.

Messdames Harper, Thrall and McKay were visitors at the Brant school on Friday, September 14.

Hugh Carey who has been working in Calgary for the past year, is here hauling grain.

Mr. Jack Brown of Oregon visited at the home of Harry Christensen the latter part of last week.

Mr. Percy Dougherty's father is here assisting him through the harvest season.

Mrs. L. J. St. Clair and daughter Louise spent Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Christensen.

Mr. Harry Carroll, who has been working in the Cheadle district, is in the Brant vicinity helping through harvest.

Master Lyle, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Platt had the misfortune to fall and break his arm, on Thursday, September 13.

The Women's Institute held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Geo. McKay on Thursday, September 13.

Mr. Les Clayton who has resided in California for the past six months is here helping Geo. Green with the harvest.

Mr. Jack McFadden, a former resident of the Brant vicinity but now of near Ensign, was a Brant visitor on Sunday last.

The U.F.W.A. which was to have held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Rhodes on Saturday, postponed their meeting until September 29th.

Little Miss Della Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Christensen, spent last week at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wainwright.

The Alberta Pacific elevator has taken in more grain than either of the rest. Mr. Charles Hicklin, manager of the elevator, has taken in over ten thousand bushels of grain and shipped two car loads in the last week. He was the first to ship any grain from Brant.

Mr. Ira Olsen had some 50 acres of summer fallow oats which after being threshed made 97 bushels to the acre and weighed 40 pounds to the bushel. This is considered an unusually good yield, and one which has not occurred for seven years.

Threshing is in full swing in the Brant district and crops are turning out excellent. Mr. W. Fletcher and son have threshed one quarter which yielded sixty one bushels of No. 1 wheat to the acre. Mr. Ira Olsen had fifty acres of summer fallow oats which made ninety bushels per acre. The Alberta Pacific Elevator Co., managed by Mr. Charles Hicklin, is getting these heavy crops. The A.P. Co. have already taken in up to date about fifteen thousand bushels of grain, and have shipped out two carloads. We predict all the elevators will be filled to capacity.

A bag of fifteen partridge, a dozen prairie chicken and ducks and one rabbit was obtained by Lord Renfrew and party while visiting at Lord Minto's ranch on Wednesday afternoon.

A party of tennis players from Calgary met with an accident while motoring to Blackie recently. One of their cars slid off the road, climbed the ditch and ran into a fence, where one passenger had his head cut. Fortunately no one was injured.

The New York Yankees clinched the 1923 American pennant, their third successive championship victory, by defeating St. Louis at the Stadium, 4 to 3. The Yankees who have made a runaway of this season's race, now can lose all of their remaining 13 games and still finish at the top, even if Cleveland, in second place, wins all of its remaining 19 games.

THE BIG DIFFICULTY

(Bassano Mail)

Even if a cheap freight rate for Alberta coal going to Ontario was secured the people of the eastern province could not be guaranteed a continual uninterrupted supply of Alberta coal, so they would not be in a much better position than they are now. The fondness of the miners in Drumheller and other coal fields to 'down tools' on the slightest pretext is the greatest handicap to the industry. Like the Indians they only appear to want to work when they run out of funds, and it takes very little provocation to start a flourishing strike. The miners seem to lack in reliability, too. Once an agreement was signed the average person would conclude that it was binding, but not so with the autocrats of labor.

DIABETIS CONQUERED

"Diabetes has been conquered" is the statement made by Prof. McLeod of Toronto while delivering an address in London, Eng. The speaker showed how successive efforts had been made to extract insulin from yeast, but probably through bacterial action the experiments had not been uniformly successful. Dr. Banting, he said, had proved that continued periodical injections brought sufferers back to health, and possibly time would show that prolonged treatment would permanently restore health. The unit price of insulin was 25c weekly for two daily injections and would become lower as production increased.

CORRALS FOR WINTER FEEDING

(Experimental Farms Note)

In winter feedings of cattle in the prairie provinces have the corrals, feed and water located and arranged so as to reduce labour to a minimum. This arrangement is well worked out at the dominion experimental station at Rosthern, and a blue print of the plan can be obtained free by applying to the superintendent. There are four corrals in pairs, and each is eighty feet square, with a feed alley running down between, making each corral forty feet wide by eighty feet long. There is a space of twenty feet between the two pairs of corrals and driveway twenty-five feet wide along the south end. The north end of all the corrals is covered by a pole and straw roof for twenty feet. A tight board fence eight feet high encloses each pair of corrals. The fence encloses and straw roof are ample water protection to cattle that are well tended. Across the feed alley at the south end of each pair of corrals is a large water trough reaching into both. A cast iron tank heater is placed in this tank to prevent the water from freezing. At the north end are a feed room and silo where the meal and cut straw and ensilage are weighed and mixed and put into a truck to be pushed out on the feed alley and fed to the cattle. Hay or green oats or uncut straw are fed over the fence in a rack on the side of each corral opposite to the feed alley. It must be borne in mind that without proper attention and feed there is no arrangement of corrals that will winter cattle. All animals must have abundance of good feed in order to thrive, and it has been found that cattle require, in addition to good feed, and plenty of it, water at all times and comfortable sleeping quarters. When these are provided the corrals described furnish adequate accommodation for twenty cattle in each corral.

Members of the royal party are already experiencing the great invigorating and energizing influences of the clear altitude of about 3400 feet in which they are now living, which in a measure accounts for the strenuous programme carried out on the first day of his visit on his ranch by Lord Renfrew.
